

Presenting a delightful return to the sound of the Pacific Northwest. Jim Valley, formerly of the Viceroy's, Don and the Goodtimes and Paul Revere and the Raiders, has created an album that is pure enjoyment.

Release date September 17, 2021
Distributed throughout North America by MVD

<http://mvdentertainment.com>

Sit Upon the Moon is Jim Valley's seventh solo album. Inspired by life's experiences, Jim reflects on his album, "These recordings, some new, some old, are among my favorites. They have found their way from the magic unfolding of nature. From dreams, both night and day. From relationships. From travel experiences. From yearnings."

Sit Upon the Moon features Jim on vocals, piano and guitar. He is joined by a select group of talented friends, including Larz Nefzger, Jennifer Ivester, Jim Hoke, Nancy Rumble and Chuck Deardorf. These are songs that invite you to sing along and continue to linger in your mind.

Jim Valley is at his finest on Sit Upon the Moon. It is the product of a career that began in the 60s and continues strong to this day. Give it a listen and see if you too, might feel like you are indeed "sitting upon the moon."

For more information, visit www.jimvalley.com.

"To me, the songs in Sit Upon the Moon revive feelings of love and the joy of life. These are songs that interpret nature as well as individual emotion – and on to a higher joyful revelation. The lyrics and tunes are poetic (but not predictable) and songful."

-- Linda Edlund

"Jim Valley is pure voice and pure heart. There is only one Jim Valley voice, in speaking and in singing."

-- Brian Bahr

"Sit Upon the Moon is a wondrous work. It's evocative, timeless, mesmerizing, deep and dreamy. I've really never heard anything quite like it, and I can tell it will reveal more each time I hear it."

-- Jeff Green

"Each piece feels like opening a special gift and experiencing the joy of finding a treasure each time."

-- Susie Matthews